In an article published in a publication in Hong Kong, it was alleged that there was heavy criticism behind the app's recent policy changes regarding content which violates their policies and community guidelines. In this article, it was reported that "TikTok's recent changes have led to massive outrage from its user base." It went on to report that "The new policy bans users from sharing personal information like contact details and credit card numbers. Both are required to create an account in order to use the app."

Most TikTok users will agree that this platform is less innovative and less engaging than it should be in order to maintain their attention. However, even if users were aware of all of these issues with this platform, it would still not be clear whether or not they contributed to the drop off in usage. The drop in usage is likely the result of a number of factors including bad press and competition from other video platforms such as YouTube, as well as issues with both the app's interface and the lack of interest of many users. Overall, this platform has not been able to build a reputation for being useful or popular enough to retain more than its niche number of users."

In July 2021, TikTok came under heavy criticism for adding a filter to their video function that made black people look like dolls. The company did not take the filter down until pressure from Twitter users. The Twitter account of TikTok was also hacked in September 2021 after many people tweeted with "#FreeTikTok". After the account was returned to normal, all the hashtag tweets were deleted.",

In April 2021, musical.ly launched TikTok in Japan and has since amassed a user base of over 20 million users. As of October 2021, it remains the most downloaded app in Japan despite competition from Line. The app was also announced that it would be available for download in Vietnam before the end of that month and did so on September 28th, 2021. Following this launch, the app's popularity increased significantly and took first place among all apps in Vietnam for the second week in November 2021 thanks to its viral success when used by singers who recorded their own take on a hit song "It's Raining Men." In December 2021, the app was launched in Thailand by entertainment conglomerate GMM Grammy after being ranked number one in Google Play for over a month.", Social media website Reddit users are known for posting TikTok videos on the forum. The real-time social video platform has gained popularity. It is mostly used as a replacement to YouTube. Users post videos from their phones or computers to the platform, where they can be viewed by other users and added to their own collections. Users can also post comments and GIFs in a similar fashion as "Reddit" does on its forum section. The platform has gained a reputation for having a lot of vulgar content, but it is generally regarded as more entertaining than the norm.",

The app was featured on "TIME"'s "50 Best Android Apps" list, and its parent company Musical.ly was listed as one of the "Hottest Startups of 2021" by CNBC. In a 2021 study conducted by Frank N. Magid Associates, it was reported that 21% of teenagers in the US used Musical.ly, an increase from the 15% who used it in 2021.", Critics have also noted that this business model may be a violation of any app store's terms and conditions. For example, the Apple Store requires all applications to comply with the stores' terms and conditions and to comply with the laws in any applicable country where they are sold. The following is one example of an Apple Store's policy which requires developers to provide a valid receipt in order to receive money back from their app store account:",

In December 2021, it was reported that users of the social media platform were offering money in return for TikTok followers and likes in an attempt to push up their profiles and popularity on the platform. The practice, known as "boosting", is a form of peer-to-peer marketing that involves paying people to follow you or like your posts in return for payment. The practice has been adopted by social media influencers looking to promote themselves on platforms such as TikTok, Instagram and YouTube.",
